GREENVILLE NEWS.

Funeral of John T. Ryan—Notes and Personal.

Tuesday morning the funeral of John T. Ryan was held from his late home, No. 68 Prospect street, and the large attendance of relatives and friends included various city officials and a delegation from Engine company No. 2. Rev. John H. Fitzmaurice officiated at the services in St. Mary's church, and at the close of the mass two solos were rendered by Mrs. Mary L. Slinex. There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes, including forms from the organizations to which deceased belonged.

The bearers were Thomas P. Burns, Cornelius J. Downey, John H. Harris, John Carey, Cornelius Murphy and Dennis P. McNery. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery, where the committee service was read by Father Fitzmaurice.

The Master Plumbers' association sent a delegation composed of President A. J. Wholey, C. O. Murphy, Joseph P. Monahan, J. E. Tompkins and Thomas P. Burns. Funeral Director Hourigan had charge of the arrangements.

Notes.

Albert Seray of Baltimore Dental college is spending the holidays at his home on the East Side.

Mrs. Lovering of Maine has been spending a few days with Mrs. Alfred Barrett of Eighth street.

Mrs. M. J. Solomon and daughter of Fifth street are the guests of Mrs. John R. Kaplan of Chesterfield.

Fine trap rock is being spread on the public school yard to the depth of two inches, to avoid the tracking of the floors with the black cinders which previously covered the yards. Five teams are engaged in hauling the rock.

TAFTVILLE

Food Sale Held by Ladies' Benevolent Society—Notes.

A successful food sale was held in Pomonah hall Tuesday afternoon and evening by the Ladies' Benevolent society of the Congregational church. There was a large attendance and a good sum was realized from the affair.

The board of managers had charge of the affair and is composed of the following: Mrs. William Williams, chairman; Mrs. Albert Pingree, Mrs. John Sharples, Mrs. Walter Sharples, Mrs. Allen Eogle.

Tenth Wedding Anniversary. Monday evening, December 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Harris at Taft Station, Mr. and Mrs. Clement Reed of J. John Reed celebrated the tenth anniversary of their wedding by giving a dinner to a few of their friends. Covers were laid for twelve, the table decorations being blue with ferns and white roses. Favors tied with blue ribbon and drawn from a receptacle to the guests were amusing. The menu was as follows: Grapefruit, maraschino cherries, oyster soup, saltines, chicken patties, escalloped salmon, creamed potatoes, French rolls, ice cream, lady fingers, macaroons, black fruit cake, demitasses, chocolate bonbons, salted peanuts.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Clement Reed, Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Carroll, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Harris, Mrs. Samuel Ockroy, Mrs. Claudia Brown, Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton, Miss Idella Scott, Elizabeth Wheeler and Speed Evans. Mr. and Mrs. Harris catered for the occasion in their usual pleasing style. The evening was happily spent with jokes and interesting stories. The presents were dainty and useful, and the whole affair was a social success.

Taftville 17 1-2, Independents 5.

The Taftville basketball team walloped the Independents of Norwich to the tune of 17 1-2 to 5 in their game in Parish hall. The small audience was disappointed with the game which was what might be termed a farce, as the visitors had no show at all from start to finish. Lineup and summary: Taftville—Potter, Popham, and Desjardins, H. Barry. Independents—Drake, C. Tuttle, R. Revell, H. Bonnet, R. Pomeroy. Goals from the floor, L. Heureux 5, Desjardins 5, Murphy 4, Popham 2, Potter 2, Revell 2, Tuttle, Drake. Goals from free tries, Murphy, Tuttle, Revell. Time, two 20-minute periods. Referee, A. J. Roy. Scorer and time-keeper, Henry Cron.

$21,530 RECEIVED FROM HUNTERS

New London County Fourth in List For Number of Licenses Issued—2,072 Issued in Towns of This County.

The fish and game commissioners have received the bodies of two quail, mounted by a taxidermist, which will be of special interest to those who have followed the experiment of raising quail in captivity that was conducted at the Connecticut Agricultural college at Mansfield.

One of the birds is the original imported from Kansas, but which died very soon after it was brought to this state, and the other was the last of the birds hatched in captivity and which died when young. The plumage of the birds shows the maturity of one and the youth of the other. The experiment was conducted under the authority of the commission, which paid all the expenses. The commission discontinued the experiment December 1, the results not having been satisfactory to them. The quail are of the "Bob White" variety. The commissioners are still of the opinion that the only way to propagate quail is to allow the birds to enjoy freedom. The birds are bred for love liberty, and captivity, even in their infancy helplessness, does not seem to be good for them. Their note has a doleful sound and is said to be an echo of the despairing cry of the Sturmer's starling that was heart-broken in its cage.

Hunters' Licenses.

The commissioners have prepared a statement of the receipts from hunters' licenses from January 1 to December 1 of this year. The total amount received for hunters' licenses was $21,530. It is expected that the receipts for December will make the amount equal to the total for the year 1911, which was $21,774. The receipts from licenses since the present law went into effect in 1907 were as follows: 1907, $22,525; 1908, $17,592; 1909, $19,117; 1910, $21,774. The following table will show the amounts received from the different classes of hunters and the amounts received according to counties during the past eleven months:

County	Resident hunters	Non-resident hunters	Alms	Amount received
Hartford	3,678	14	4	$3,878
New Haven	4,069	22	6	$5,279
New London	2,072	13	2	$2,422
Fairfield	1,967	29	9	$4,927
Litchfield	2,039	21	3	$2,294
Windham	2,123	26	3	$2,522

LONG-STANDING LABOR TROUBLES IN COLORADO

J. Allen Davis Made a "Peace Talk" Which Quelled a Fight.

Through a letter to his brother, G. Warren Davis of the Central Building East Side, J. Allen Davis, who has been a resident of Boulder, Col. for the last 25 years, gives an inside light on some troublesome conditions at present existing in Colorado in the neighborhood of Boulder. Mr. Davis was recently part of a sheriff's posse summoned to avert a threatened clash between the strikers and the non-union men at the mines at Superior, where a coal strike has been on for months.

Both sides have reached the place where they are ready to use desperate methods and a killing spree has been averted. The non-union men are ready to ally out of their stockades to make an attack on the strikers. The bells were rung and whistles blown in the neighboring hamlets, 150 citizens reporting from whom the sheriff swore in a number of men, among them J. Allen Davis. They were whisked off across the country in automobiles and when they arrived at the mine found the two hostile parties, armed to the teeth and drawn up in line facing each other. Mr. Davis writes that it was a moment when a chance shot or a wrong word would have started bloodshed. He was chosen to make a "peace talk" following the shooting.

Whatever they said proved effectual, for to the great satisfaction of the peace party, the two hostile camps accepted their advice and the shooting was stopped. He and his fellow citizens felt as they saw the armed men fade away across the prairie.

LOOKING FOR PLACE OF NORWICH MEMBERS

Groton and Stonington Men Want to Be Members of State Board of Education.

Friends of Judge Frederick H. Brewer, both in Mystic and other parts of Groton, are talking of him as a possible candidate for a position on the state board of education. Judge Brewer has been greatly interested in the educational affairs of his town for a great many years, and has served for a long time as a member of the Groton board of school visitors. In this capacity he has had the welfare of the public schools of Groton at heart and has always favored progressive ideas in educational matters. As member and chairman of the democratic town committee Judge Brewer has been in the public eye of the town of Groton for a great many years, and is well known not only in his own town but all through this part of the state. His friends are therefore persuaded that Judge Brewer would make a popular candidate for a position on the state board of education. There will be a vacancy to fill on the expiration of the term of a William M. Williams, who is now in the public eye of the town of Groton for a great many years, and is well known not only in his own town but all through this part of the state. His friends are therefore persuaded that Judge Brewer would make a popular candidate for a position on the state board of education.

Another man who is mentioned for this position is James Cooper of Stonington. Mr. Cooper has been very active with educational affairs in Mystic for a great many years, having served for several years on the school district committee, giving a great deal of his time and ability to the work required, and since the installation of the town school system in Stonington Mr. Cooper has been chairman of the town school committee of three. Mr. Cooper's politics are republican, but, supposedly, politics do not count in the educational schemes. Mystic furnishes two men who are well qualified and eligible, on account of their experience and ability as members to the state board.

WOODRUFF IS DEFENDANT.

Second Wife Brings Suit for Divorce—Married Less Than a Year.

P. Franklin Woodruff, who was one time the idol of New London baseball fans, is the defendant in a divorce suit brought by his bride, who has been married less than a year. His wife, Katherine M. Woodruff, brings the suit through her attorney, R. M. Schenck of New York city.

Mrs. Woodruff is Mr. Woodruff's second wife. Woodruff was a member of the New London team when that city was in the Connecticut league and played there for several seasons. When there his first wife resided in the city, and he was married to her in the Connecticut league.

Woodruff is now on the stage. He was last with the Call of the Wild company. The couple were married in Nashua, N. H., March 25, last.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.

Some Activity Shown About the City—New Cottages Being Erected.

Work has been started on another new house at Maple court by the Plainfield Land and Building company. It is a frame house with all conveniences.

Work is well along on the two houses which Contractors Stetson & Young are building on Stonington street. Each house is of frame construction, provided with furnace heat and every convenience.

W. M. Perkins is building a frame house on McKinley avenue. The plans show a house 24x24, of eight rooms, with all conveniences.

A blow system is to be installed in the plant of H. F. & A. J. Dawley.

Candid Declaration.

"What sort of a ticket does your suffragette club favor?" "Well," replied Mrs. Torkins, "If we owned right up, I think most of us would prefer matinee tickets."

"The application of horse-radish to the temples is said to relieve neuralgia."

YANTIC HAPPENINGS.

Injured Man Refused to Go to Hospital—Christmas Decorations Brought from Wauwecus Hill.

The ambulance was in the village Sunday to take a man recently injured by falling off Chapel Hill wall to the Esekus hospital. He was badly cut about the head and face, but refused to go. He was attended by the local physician and is being cared for at his boarding house.

Christmas Greening.

The evergreen, laurel and Christmas trees which are to be used for decorations in Grace church and Sunday school were put up Sunday on Wauwecus Hill.

One Redeeming Feature.

She—Poor cousin Jack! And to be eaten by those wretched cannibals.

He—Yes, my dear child; but he gave them their first taste in religion!

—London Opinion.

As Angels Give.

If instead of a gem or even a flower we could cast the gift of a lovely thought into the heart of a friend, that would be giving as the angels give.

—George MacDonald.

NORWICH TOWN

Yuletide Interests of the Schools—Electric Lights Wanted on Scotland Road—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saxton Move to Bliss Place.

Invitations are being held in the West Town street and Town street schools, children are making Christmas cards and gathering greens for decorating the rooms. The rooms in the Town street school are suggestive of the season with red bells and balls, ground pine, and drawings illustrating the spirit of Christmas.

Yeans for Brighter Light. The residents of Scotland road look with envy upon their Town street neighbors who have their homes wired for electric lighting. With a steady hand of all their improvements, they hope that soon they, too, may be favored with this modern method of lighting.

Weighty Pigs. Frank A. Skinner reports that two pigs were dressed here last week, each being 905 pounds.

Men, Women and Affairs. William F. Keables of Lisbon is visiting his sister, Mrs. James Ray of Elm avenue.
